Re: Purchase of a 1955 Chevrolet Corvet

convertible with Vehicle Identification Number VE55S001102 by

of Oelwein, Iowa

Dear Mr. Reynolds:

Cedar Rapids, Iowa

The purpose of this letter is to confirm a telephone conversation between Special Agent (SA) of our Waterloo, Iowa, Office and Mr. Robert L. Teig of your Cedar of our Rapids, Iowa, Office on September 23, 1981, at which time the following facts were presented to Mr. Teig:

In February of 1981, the Consumer Protection Division of the Iowa Department of Justice, Des Moines, Iowa, requested the assistance of the FBI regarding a possible interstate fraud violation which occurred when Mr. of Oelwein, Iowa, purchased a red 1955 Chevrolet Corvette automobile at the Kruse Antique Car Auction in Atlantic City, New Jersey, in February of 1979. Paid $34,000 for the automobile, which was sold as a car previously owned by Elvis Presley. According to documents furnished with the car at the time of the auction, the Corvette was sold to Elvis Presley of Memphis, Tennessee, on January 18, 1955, for $3,864. The automobile had a 195-horsepower "Turbo Fire V8" engine with a three-speed manual transmission and a Wonderbar signal-seeking radio.

returned to Oelwein, Iowa, with the After car, he received several letters from Corvette enthusiasts throughout the United States informing him that the car was act equipped with original options as indicated on the bill of sale, because those options (the three-speed manual transmission and the Wonderbar radio) were not available in January of 1955.

carched Serialized Indexed

In order to determine if there was a fraud committed by the previous owner of the automobile or by the auction in New Jersey concerning the claim that the automobile belonged to Elvis Presley, the following investigation was conducted:

Mr. of Basking Ridge, New Jersey, one of the automobile's former owners, advised that he purchased the Corvette approximately five years ago from a Newark, New Jersey, car dealer for $3,000 cash. Indicated the car had been advertised in the New York Times newspaper. Stated he did not renovate the car in any way, and he sold the car to advised that he only provided with the title to the car; and he did not claim that the car was ever owned by Elvis Presley, nor did he furnish any invoice or documents which would make this claim.

of Neponsit, New York, was interviewed and he claims he paid $4,000 for the automobile from an unknown individual in New Jersey. Stated that he put $10,000 of his own money into the car before he sold it. Claims that he received a bill of sale from the man in New Jersey which indicated that the Corvette had been previously owned by Elvis Presley. Advised that he mounted and laminated the invoice, but he was not sure in his own mind that the car had, indeed, belonged to Presley.

stated he did not change the vehicle's transmission, nor did he install a signal-seeking radio in the car. Both of these features were on the car prior to his purchase.

advised that he sold the automobile to through the Kruse Auto Auction and provided the laminated document showing that the vehicle previously was owned by Elvis Presley to at the time of the sale.

stated that he was not able to prove positively that the car had previously been owned by Elvis Presley and if he would have been able to do that, he would have sold the automobile for $100,000.

of West Chester, Pennsylvania, advised that he purchased the Corvette on February 28, 1978, from through the Kruse Auto Auction and he paid advised that he did not physically change the automobile in any way, and he sold it one year later through the Kruse Auto Auction to the followin, Iowa.

$17.500 for the car. advised that in his opinion, claimed that the car was Elvis Presley's at the time he purchased it and he even provided a laminated bill of sale at that time.

The FBI Laboratory in Washington D. C. examined the car invoice from Don Allen Chevrolet of New York New York, wh which indicated that the automobile was sold to Elvis Presley on January 18, 1955. Because the document was laminated by a previous owner, the document itself could not be subjected to several tests which could be performed on paper. The FBI baboratory examiner located several apparent irregularities, in the invoice; however, without an original Don Allen Chevrolet Company invoice to compare the document to, the examiner was unable to say if the document was a fake or a forgery. (The Don Allen Chevrolet Company is no longer in business.)

An inquiry at the Chevrolet Corvette Manufacturing Plant in Saint Louis, Missouri, determined that the three-speed manual transmission and the Wonderbar signal-seeking radio were, indeed, options that could have been purchased in January of 1955.

A review was made of the vehicles titled to Elvis
Presley of Memphis, Tennessee, by the Motor Vehicle Revenue Department for the State of Tennessee in Memphis; and as a result of this review, it was concluded that Presley never titled a Corvette automobile in the State of Tennessee. Most of the vehicles titled by Presley in the State of Tennessee were larger, luxury cars, trucks, and motorcycles.

Contact was made with the E. H. Crump Insurance Company of Memphis, Tennessee; This company has handled insurance for Elvis Presley and his estate for over 15 years. The company did not have any record of Presley ever owning a Chevrolet Corvette automobile.

a cousin of Elvis Presley and an employee of the Presley estate, said that Presley, to her knowledge, never bought or owned any Corvette convertible.

1C

After hearing the above facts, Mr. Teig advised that it is very doubtful the FBI investigation could ever meet the requirements of Title 18, Section 2314, USC, regarding fraudulent claims or inducements by the former owners of the automobile, which caused to travel interstate to purchase the vehicle. Based on Mr. Teig's decision, no further investigation will be conducted in this matter by the FBI.

On November 24, 1981, a synopsis of the FBI's investigation was discussed with at the FBI Office in Naterloo, Iowa. All of the original evidence belonging to originally provided by the State of Iowa, Department of Justice, was turned over to at that time.

Very Truly Yours,

Herbert H. Hawkins, Jr. Special Agent in Charge

He is employed in the law firm of Montedonico, Beiskell, Davis, Glankler, Brown and Gilliland, and maintains his office at 1 Commerce Square, Memphis, Tennessee.

CHARLES H. DAVIS was a senior partner in this law firm and had represented ELVIS A. PRESLEY and the PRESLEY family interests for approximately 21 years. ELVIS PRESLEY maintains a residence at Memphis, Tennessee, and is a popular movie star and entertainer.

Due to the poor bealth of CHARLES DAVIS, D. BEECHER SMITH became involved in the PRESLEY interests in behalf of the law firm, and in this connection the following facts came to his attention:

ELVIS PRESLEY owned a Lockheed Jetstar airplane, registration number M777EP and manufacturer's serial number 5004.

In June, 1976, there was an outstanding indebtedness on the aircraft in excess of $600,000. This was owed to the American Mational Bank of Morristown, New Jersey. This particular bank held the mortgage on the plane since it was purchased, according to SMITH, in the general area of this bank.

This aircraft was not being used by PREMLEY in his entertainment business and therefore he was making payments on an asset that was not generating any return on its capital. In addition, attempts to sell the aircraft have resulted in no success.

A meeting was scheduled for June 24, 1976, to arrange a transaction wherein the plane could be refinanced, funds would be provided for its upgrading, and the plane could be leased out and generate a return on the investment of approximately $1,000 per month.

It is SMITH's recollection that WINFIELD, PRO and CAGGIANO had promoted the idea of a sale-lease plan involving sub-leasing of the Jetstar and including an upgrading of the plane.

The transaction contemplated involved the sale of the Jetstar by ELVIS PRESLEY (through his father, VERNON PRESLEY acting under Power of Attorney) to W.W.P. Leasing Group. W.W.P. was to borrow enough money from the Chemical Bank of New York to cover both paying off of the present indebtedness on the aircraft, which is ever $600,000, and also upgrading this aircraft in order to qualify it for Federal Aviation Regulation 121 Maintenance Program. This upgrading had an estimated cost of $350,000.

Upon completion of the upgrading, the plane allegedly would be valued on the open market at approximately $950,000. With W.W.P. purchasing the plane, the contractual agreement was for ELVIS PRESLEY to lease the plane back for $4 months (7 years) at a monthly rental of $16,755. Thereafter PRESLEY would sub-lease the plane for $17,755 per month for $4 months to Air Cargo Express. This would result in a $1,000 a month profit for PRESLEY, and at the end of the 7-year period PRESLEY had the right to buy back the plane for $1.00. Movever, the contractual agreement would allow Air Cargo to continue another three years, paying a reduced rental of $10,000 per month.

BASZHER was present at this meeting because he, exting as agent of World Aircraft Exchange, Inc., was supposed to be responsible for supervising the upgrading and modification of the aircraft to qualify it for the Pederal Aviation Regulation (FAR) 121 Maintenance Program, CAGGIANO claimed to be representing Air Cargo Express (FRED PRO), according to SMITH, but later told SMITH that he was representing World Aircraft Exchange (BASZMER).

The meeting of June 34, 1976, had to be delayed ever into June 35 for the actual signing of the contract. MANS ACHTMANN had to leave on the evening of June 34 and asked CAGGIANO to assist on the following day with the completion of the lease agreement between W.W.P. and MLVIS PRESLEY.

__ SNITH has no knowledge of any prior association between CAGGIANO and ACHTMANN but feels the request of CAGGIANO was made because of his familiarity with the entire transaction, as well as his abilities as an attorney.

WINFIELD and WOLFSON were present at this meeting because WINFIELD was the aircraft broker and WOLFSON works with him.

SMITH said that the purpose of the meeting on the 24th was not clear to him at its commencement because he had only been called upon by his law associate, CHARLES DAVIS, a few minutes prior to the commencement of the meeting. Due to some changes in the sub-lease agreement, the transaction which originally had been contemplated to be closed in May had been delayed one month.

ACHTMANN had given CAGGIANO a standard form lease consisting of one page, front and back, with approximately 30 short paragraphs and provisions covering the lease agreement for any particular chattel, which in this case was the airplane. CAGGIANO was to complete this lease agreement on June 25, 1976, and return the executed contract to ACHTMANN. The delay in the execution of the contract was due to Mr. DAVIS' poor health and it was to be resumed the following day.

It was on this following day, June 25, 1976, that gwith learned BASZNER, on behalf of World Aircraft Exchange, would handle the supervising of the upgrading of the aircraft in order for it to qualify for the FAR 121 Maintenance.

Riders were drafted by Messrs. EMITE, DAVIS, and CAGGIANO, including life insurance, hall insurance, and liabilities.

There was also a provision that the purchase money would be released first to American Mational Bank to pay off the outstanding indebtedness, then certain funds would go to Air Cargo Express for apprading the plane, and the balance of the funds were to be released to World Aircraft Exchange for supervising, directing and reporting on the apprading of the aircraft as statements were issued for services rendered.

On June 25, 1976, the lease agreement was signed by FERNON PRESLEY, acting for ELVIS PRESLEY, and he paid two shocks to W.W.P., both in the amount of $16,755, representing the first and $4th monthly rental payments. At the same time FRED PRO wrote three checks to ELVIS PRESLEY, two in the amount of $17,755 each, representing the first and $4th monthly payments, and the third representing a premium for the sub-lease, as required under the sub-lease agreement, in the amount of $40,000. CAGGIANO took his copies of the documents and left; PRO took the keys to the Jetstar and his copies of the documents and left; and PRESLEY took his checks from PRO along with his (PRESLEY's) copies of the documents and left.

However, shortly thereafter it was determined that more of the checks farnished by PRO to PRESLEY were valid and all were returned by the bank.

Later during a telephonic contact with PRO, SMITH was told that the money was coming from Jamaica or some place else and that there had been an error in the transfer of funds.

About a week later, SMITH learned that the Chemical Bank of New York, which was involved in the megotiation of the lease by PRESLEY from W.W.P., reported that the standard chattel lease agreement was unacceptable, and they provided their own draft of the agreement, consisting of approximately 23 pages, to embody the terms of the agreement between ELVIS PRESLEY and W.W.P.

On Twesday, July 13, 1976, SIDNEY EXEINER, an attorney for W.W.P., came to Hemphis with the document, and certain changes were made with the approval of EXEINER as spokesman for W.W.P. and the Chemical Bank of New York. While EXEINER was in the law office with SMITH and DAVIS, CAGGIANO and BASZKER arrived unannounced. BASZKER had certain invoices for payment for upgrading on the airgraft. BAVIS did not want VERNON PRESLEY to sign them as BASZKER desired, because under the criginal rider of the lease, the release of funds for upgrading was the responsibility of W.W.P. PRESLEY then, with the approval of the attorneys, Signed these invoices evidencing approval that W.W.P. make the payments as it was not desired that PRESLEY be placed in a position of supervising the upgrading and modification of the airplane.

During this same meeting on July 13, 1976, the addendum to the lease entitled "Rider No. 1" was retyped and again stated that the responsibility for supervising the modification and upgrading of the aircraft was that of World Aircraft Exchange, Inc., for which World Aircraft Exchange, Inc., was to be paid. At the conclusion of the meeting, EMEINER took the new lease and the two-page rider signed by VERNON PRESLEY back to New York City.

At this point SMITH's attention was drawn to the apper right-hand corner of the five statements referred to above, and he was questioned concerning the words "Statement 106 R.P." The numbers 206, 306, 406 and 506 were each entered on the other four invoices which totaled $341,500. SMITH was anable to explain this and felt that World Aircraft should be able to clarify this matter.

On July 20, 1976, EMITH was called to DAVIS' home and was presented with a poorly drafted two-page document providing for an assignment by Air Cargo of its sub-lease to a company called A.G.M. Financial Corporation. DAVIS had received this in the mail from FRED P. PRO. EMITE had learned that PRO claimed he could not do business with ACHTMANN as W.W.P. was too hard-nosed. PRO wanted the criginal lease with W.W.P. to be altered and replace W.W.P. with A.G.M. Financial. This conceivably would cause a change from the Chemical Bank of New York to another bank.

To EMITH's recollection, prior to the signing of the lease contract on July 13, 1976, there was a meeting of CAGGIANO with VERMON PRESLEY. DAVIS and EMITH were present and CAGGIANO had gone to tell PRESLEY of PRO's problems with ACHTMANN. CAGGIANO was interested in replacing V.V.P. due to their slow funding and disbursement of money. Unannounced, WIGHL WINFIELD arrived at the meeting from Miami, and the discussion continued to the point that DAVIS asked who would be recommended to replace V.V.P. in the lease. As EMITH recalls, WINFIELD said in slow words, "A.B.M. Financial." This request was denied on behalf of FRESLEY.

MITH then returned to his aforementioned meeting with DAVIS at DAVIS' house and the two-page assignment. VERNON PRESLEY arrived at the house and advised them that CAGGIANO had flown to Memphis on Thursday after the Tuesday on which the revised lease agreement had been executed.

CAGGIANO brought with him a cashier's check in the approximate amount of $338,000 from the Chemical Bank of New York. PRESLEY also told him that ACHIMANN of W.W.P. had called him previously and requested that instead of W.W.P. disbursing the funds, as provided under the rider of the revised lease, PRESLEY should disburse the funds for the upgrading of the plane.

ACHTMANN said he did not know whether the work was done or not and did not want the responsibility. SMITH commented that ACHTMANN was in the aircraft leasing business and should have no problem understanding whether the work had been completed or not and he could not understand ACHTMANN's position acting for W.W.P. in this latest development. PRESLEY further informed them that CAGGIANO, BASIMER and PRO had been to Hemphis and contacted PRESLEY directly. They went to the Whitehaven Branch of the Mational Bank of Commerce and in the presence of CLARENCE CARTER, the bank official, PRESLEY accepted their invoices and drafted one personal check to PREDERICK PRO in the amount of $17,500, with the notation on the check "Ref 106 E.P." SMITH had in his possession a copy of this check bearing the endorsement PREDERICK P. PRO.--

PRESLEY also had prepared four eachier's checks payable to those corporations designated on the invoices prepared on World Aircraft Exchange stationery. These checks would have been $32,000 to Air Cargo Express, Inc., and Dallas Airmotive, $129,500 to Trans World Industries, and $45,000 to World Aircraft Exchange, Inc.

The invoice in the amount of $117,500 payable to FREDERICK P. PRO, President, Air Cargo Express, Inc., was not satisfied in its entirety. PRESLEY deducted $78,510 representing the checks which PRO had originally given and subsequently were returned by the bank. This resulted in a net of $38,990 given to PRO at this time.

It is SMITH's opinion that ACHTMANN and W.W.P. were either operating in conjunction with CAGGIANO, BASZNER, $20 and their related corporations, or at least they dealt directly with PRESLEY and in the absence of PRESLEY's attorneys effecting a change in the contract for the disbursement of funds. SMITH believes that he was told by DAVIS that ACHTMANN had told DAVIS that he requested PRESLEY pay the monies directly to these people.

The first monthly rental payment was not due from Air Cargo Express until August 25, 1976. Hovever, Air Cargo Express indicated an interest in another aircraft belonging to KLVIS PRESLEY and an arrangement was again proposed by the broker, MIGKL WINFIKLD. This arrangement was being proposed in behalf of A.G.M. Financial Corporation, which is the same organization previously submitted by PRO to replace W.W.P. in the first contract. This corporation was formed by one ANGRIO G. MARNARINO, with a business address of 14423 Southwest 74th Avenue, Miani, Florida (205-251-7209).

A.G. W. Sought to Illi the Same role accomplished by W.V.P. with regard to the Jetstar on another plane of PRESLEY'S, a Dassault-Falcon, Model Number 20-C, Serial Number 30. Agreements were drafted between A.G.M. and ELVIS PRESLEY which were executed on July 30, 1976. A similar type sale and lease back arrangement was entered into as previously described at the initial stages of this interview. VERNON PRESLEY gave personal checks to ANGELO MANKARINO in the approximate amount of $53,000, which MARKARINO subsequently cashed. PRO presented PRESLEY with three more checks totaling approximately $95,000, again representing the first and 84th monthly payments under the sub-lease and a check for $40,000 premium for the lease. Again more of PRO's checks were honored by the bank.

Because MARKARINO and A.G.M. could not secure funding for the sale-lease back arrangement on the Falcon, PRISLRY was able to call off this deal. However, A.G.M. still wrongfully retains $50,000 paid it as a deposit.

back agreement, Air Cargo Express did not tender its second monthly rental payment. Numerous telephone calls followed shocking up on the progress and apprading of the plane, and PRO told SMITH that the delay in funding by the Chemical Mank had caused his company to be somewhat behind in achieving 121 Maintenance. PRO asked for and did receive an extension, granted him by W.W.P.

Over the next few weeks PRO made various representations to PRESLEY and SMITH concerning the 121 Maintenance Program, including such things as the wings of the Jetstar had been removed and X-rayed for any faults and that tests had been run on the plane. PRO also stated that at different times be had flown the plane on tests with various PAA officials, and it would be just a matter of days before the 121 certificate would be granted by PAA.

A motice of default was mailed to Air Cargo demanding immediate payment or else repossession of the plane, and on October 11, 1976, the following communication was received:

Although this wire was received, so payments were received from Air Cargo Express and altimately one of ELVIS PRESLEY's pilots went to Miami to retake the plane. Upon its return to Memphis, its log book was reviewed and revealed that more of the funds in excess of a quarter of a million dollars which had been paid out upgrading and modifying the plane to qualify it for 121 Maintenance had been applied to the plane.

SMITH summarised by saying that PRO, through various corporations under his control, obtained over $200,000 from PRESLEY by representing these funds would be used to upgrade the aircraft to qualify it for 121 Mintenance. PRO also sent various checks which were subsequently dishonored by the banks on which they were drawn.

Over $40,000 was paid to BASZNER of World Aircraft Exchange for work to be performed on the aircraft, which was not accomplished. SMITH has since been told that PRO has left the country for England and the Air Cargo Express effice in Miami is not in operation.

In addition, referring to notes maintained by his associate, FRANK J. GLANKLER, JR., it was determined that BASZNER had been called on Movember 3, 1976, by telephone. The answering party advised that he was not there but that BOBERT CAGGIANO was available. This was the first indication, November 3, 1976, that CAGGIANO was an official of World Aircraft Exchange. SHITH believes be is the President of the corporation. BASZNER, according to the notes, called Memphis back and allegedly claimed that W.W.P. would withhold disburgements until such times as the individual work was done. PRO had spoken to PRESLEY, according to BASEKER, and was getting the place fireproofed, eardexing and re-establishing its erash worthiness. BASINER, who had arranged for the purchase of the plane, received a commission for this, but PRO had told him that a voice recorder and other equipment were being provided for the plane. BASZNER received about $45,000 to provide the financing and technical program and was following the certification of the plane and would verify its appraisal. Allegedly MASINER had five checks from PRO, all of which were bad.

CAGGIANO to set up the financing in this first transaction with PRESLEY. WINFIELD of Commercial Air Transport voices the same claim. W.W.P. was to get two months rent as a commission and then receive no further reinbursements. W.W.P. was the lessor and owner of the plane, the Jetstar, and the lesse was assigned to the Chemical Bank of New York. THOMAS MICHELS, 55 Water Street, Suite 1822, New York City, was the bank official involved.

SMITH further stated that he had been informed by RICHARD R. MEVILLE, Chief, Federal Aviation Administration, Miami, Florida, that on September 7, 1976, Span Bast Airlines, Inc., doing business as Air Cargo Express, requested that the FAA hold operating certificate CE-24(C) until such time as the company could again comply with the requirements of the Federal Aviation regulations. The carrier also voluntarily surrendered its operating certificate on September 7, 1976, which was cancelled the same date.

SWITH believes that he has had conversations with PRO subsequent to that September 7 date, wherein PRO informed him of additional repairs progressing on the Jetstar. SMITH is endeavoring to locate his office records to substantiate these conversations.

As a matter of information SMITH furnished a copy of the Aircraft Lease Agreement between ELVIS PRESLEY and Air Cargo Express, Inc., dated in May, 1976. This was superseded by the contract altimately signed July 13, 1976. Contained in the May, 1976, proposed contract was a clause which would allow payments to be paid directly to the First Trust Company of Bouston, Sll Rusk Avenue, Bouston. SMITH was unable to explain why this particular bank was designated and is not familiar with who drew up this contract.

- Contained in Clause 13 was indication that Air Cargo Express, Inc., was located at 1750 Northwest 69th Avenue, Minni, Florida.

PRO also furnished a document by Span Air, Inc., FREDERICK P. PRO, President, certifying this to be a public corporation listed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

SWITH was unaware of the relationship of Span Air, Inc., with Air Cargo Express.

A Provision to the Lease dated July 15, 1976, and identified as Rider No. 1, was furnished by HARS ACHTMANN to VERNON PRESLEY and related, in part, to the release of funds from V.V.P. The second paragraph is as follows: "The Balance of the payment between American National Bank and the capitalized cost of Nine Handred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($950,000.00) shall be paid to Elvis A. Presley, who will distribute such funds for the purpose of up-dating said Aircraft to comply with F.A.R. 121 specifications and 121 Maintenance Program." Although this rider was initialed by ACHTMANN, it was contrary to the original lease agreement which would put the burden on Air Cargo Express and World Aircraft Exchange, Inc.

BHITH questioned the purpose for ACHTMANN doing this because it appeared that ACHTMANN felt he was being put in the middle between PRESLEY and PRO. If PRO or his associates were doing something irregular with regard to the repairs to the plane, and reports of repairs to W.W.P. caused payments to be made to World Aircraft in error, ACHTMANN would be responsible to a degree.

gnith also had in his possession a copy of "Minutes of a Special Meeting of the Board of Directors of Air Cargo Express, Inc." This is dated June 30, 1976, and identified the directors as being FRED PRO, President, and BOT SHITH acting as secretary. According to the minutes, a discussion was held as to who should be authorized to sign and execute instruments of purchase of the aircraft in behalf of the corporation. A resolution was unde and passed that FREDERICK P. PRO, President, be authorized to sign and execute lease and sub-lease of the aircraft from ELVIS A. PRISIAT. These minutes are signed FREDERICK P. PRO, Chairman; BOT E. SHITH, Secretary.

D. BEECHER SMITH, Attorney, I Commerce Square, Memphis, Tennessee, advised that he had been in receipt of a Dun and Bradstreet report relative to Air Cargo Express, Inc., with a business address of 1750 Northwest 69th Avenue, Miami. The report reflects the company was started in 1976 with 10 employees and on April 15, 1976, FREDERICK PRO, President, deferred financial information. The officers were identified as FREDERICK PRO, President; CHESTER HORTON, Secretary and Treasurer; and EAY SMITH, Vice President. The business was incorporated in Florida in January, 1976.

PRO, born in 1926, is divorced. His background, according to the report, is that he graduated from Temple University, obtaining a degree in Industrial Engineering and a Master's degree in Electronic Engineering. After military service, he was with RCA until 1958, was Vice President and General Manager of Budd Electronics during 1963, and in 1970 he was Vice President for the Railway Division of Budd Company. He spearheaded the Metroliner (New York City, Wasnington, D. C.) Trailing Program. also received the 1964 Paris LeBourget Air Award for New Concepts. He also served as consultant to a governmental agency for Futuristic Electronic Transportation Exploitations. In 1972, as Investor and Chairman of the Board of Parker West Corporation, Boynton Beach, Florida, he set up this as a holding company owned by local and foreign investors. I rapid succession, Parker West Corporation purchased the assets of Glassic Industries, Inc., changed the mane to Glassic Motors, Inc., manufacturing antique replicas, and he purchased assets of Electronic Systems Division of Dynamics Corporation of America, which he changed to Rel-Reeves, Inc. This organization manufactured record retrieval equipment.

Manufacturing automobile replicas. He set up Interpole Communications, Inc., Precision Electronics Corporation, and Glassic Marketing, Inc., which soon marged into one or another of the above outlined corporations. On July 22, 1975, Parker West Corporation and its three subsidiaries, Glassic Motors, Inc., Rel-Reeves, Inc., and Romulus Motor Car Company, Inc., filed voluntary petition for arrangement under Chapter XI, U. S. District Court, Miami. This is listed under case # 75-999. Total liabilities were reported at $9,143,000, and total assets of $16,417,000. Attorneys were identified as Mass, Rogers, and Chauncey, 321 Royal Poinciana Plaza, Palm Beach, Florida. Referee was PAUL HYMAN, and filing at the same time was FREDERICK P. PRO under case # 75-1005.

Information concerning RAY SMITH or CHESTER MORTON was undetermined by Dun and Bradstreet.

Air Cargo Express is affiliated through FREDERICK PRO with Worldwide Communications, Inc., incorporated in Florida in 1976 and located at the same address as a holding company. Trident Mational Corporation, Inc., incorporated in Florida in 1975 or 1976 as an air cargo organization, is another affiliate, as is Span Air, Inc., purchased March 10, 1976, as a freight transport organization. Dun and Bradstreet reported that Air Cargo Express moved from 5757 Northwest 27th Avenue, Miami, Florida, (305-883-5533) to 5553 Northwest 36th Street, Miami, Florida.

On August 10, 1976, according to Dun and Bradstreet, the local press reported a suit in the amount of $1,289 was entered against Air Cargo Express, Inc., by State Southern Management Company, Inc., in County Court, Miami, under docket # 7612697SP-OS.

On February 14, 1977, D. BEECHER SMITH, attorney, telephonically advised that the pilot for KLVIS FRESLEY who would have knowledge of the condition of the plane before and after it was surrendered to FRED PRO, ale MILO BTCHIGH,

VERNON PRESLEY can be contacted at the Graceland Estates and an appointment arranged by calling him on the private line

SMITH also advised that he has received a call from ANGELO G. MANNARINO who was in Miami. MANNARINO told him that PRO had sent "two goons" to MANNARINO to force him to make a $70,000 loan to PRO.

SMITH also had a copy of Minutes of a meeting of the Board of Directors of Air Cargo Express, Inc., which reads as follows:

MINUTES OF A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF AIR CARGO EXPRESS INC.

D. BEECHER SMITH, II, Attorney, in the law firm of Montedonico, Heiskell, Davis, Glankler, Brown, and Gilliland, One Commerce Square, Memphis, Temmessee, Eurnished the following information:

Through a review of his records, he was able to determine that calls were made from his office to the office of FRED PRO (305-883-5533), Mismi, Florida, on September 14, October 4, 7, and 8, 1976. SMITH recalls in the conversation of September 14, the topic of improvements to the airplane was discussed and PRO told him on the telephone that the wings had been removed and X-rayed at one inspection.

PRO told him that the Cardex System was installed and the plane had been on test flights under the supervision of a representative of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

SMITH reminded PRO that all checks issued by PRO had failed to clear the bank and he complained of difficulty in financing in that assets were not transferred from the right bank into his accounts.

PAUL ENIGHT, Aviation and General Insurance Company, Hollywood, Florida, received a cashier check in behalf of PRO from the Mercantile Bank and Trust Company, somewhere in the West Indies. SHITH had received information that this particular bank only had assets of $100,000 and yet was capable of issuing cashier's checks of greater amounts than total bank assets.

MITH had in his possession copies of the flight log of the Lockheed Jetster. When the aircraft was repossessed, it was discovered that only a minimal amount of work by a company called General Air Services, Inc., of Mismi, had been performed on the plane and mone of the information furnished by PRO regarding the repairs to the plane as having been completed had in fact been accomplished.
